District 9 expects deep debt

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A $2.2 million deficit budget, proposed for the 1987-88 school year, will not result in a tax rate increase. And much of the imbalance involves using past proceeds from school sales to improve remaining school buildings.

School Board members tentatively approved the budget Tuesday night.

The budget shows projected expenses of $30,351,910 and projected new revenue of $28,125,397, a difference of $2,226,513. Last year's budget totaled $29,128,174. The deficit will not cause an increase in property tax rates, Norm Owca, the district's finance director, said Wednesday. The district will use money left over from previous years in some cases to make up the differences, he said.

Superintendent Gib Walmsley said administrators will review budget categories to see where costs can be trimmed.

Nearly half of the budget deficit is due to scheduled cuts in state education spending, Owca said. The district will lose $1,036,516 in once-authorized state funds, including $887,002 in the education fund and $149,513 in the transportation fund, Owca said.

State aid is now estimated at $11,998,263 for 1987-88, compared to the 1986-87 aid total of $13,034,779.

Spending in the education fund is projected at $24,154,531 and revenues at $23,486,164.

"If it were not for Gov. James Thompson's education fund cuts initiated in July 1987, this fund would have a positive 1987-88 balance of $218,635," Owca said. (See DISTRICT, Page 8A)

Madison teachers agree to contract

By Donna Kimbro
Staff writer

MADISON — Negotiations between Madison Federation of Teachers Local 763 and the school district ended successfully Monday with a signed contract providing pay increases of 4, 5 and 6 percent over the next three years.

The contract will cost the school district an extra $138,580 for the first year, another $173,415 for the second year and an added $209,103 for the third year, he said.

Dolores Folkerts, assistant to the superintendent, served as spokesman for the school district during the negotiation meetings. Participating with her were Billie Bosworth, a school board member, and Ron Booth of Springfield, Ill., a negotiation consultant.

Some contract language changes were approved, Superintendent of Schools Dan Kosienick said.

Willie Dennis, union president, could not be reached for comment.

Crider given district job

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Alan Crider, a former District 9 School Board member, was hired Wednesday night as a language arts teacher at Grigsby Junior High School.

The board unanimously voted to hire Crider, who resigned from the board July 23 amid rumors he would apply for a district job.

Crider could not be reached for comment. Superintendent Gib Walmsley said Crider was "very well qualified" for the job and was the best candidate.

Crider's former board position didn't help or hinder the board's decision to hire him, said President Kelly Hogan.

"We looked at strictly his background in language arts and thought he was the best candidate," Hogan said. Crider resigned from the board, Hogan said, so he could apply for a district job if one opened.

Other board members have resigned to take district jobs, he said. Jerry McKeehan resigned last year to take a teaching job with the district, Hogan said.

Crider had applied for the assistant principal. (See CRIDER, Page 8A)

Developer to sue Pontoon Beach

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — Quality Sand Inc. plans to sue the village for damages, trustees learned at the board meeting Tuesday.

Quality Sand Inc., 4439 Illinois 162, filed the required intent to sue document Aug. 24 against "village officers, agents and employees," according to the document, read to the board by Clerk Mary Warren.

Trustees did not discuss the threatened suit.

"We don't comment on any pending litigation," village Attorney Keith Jensen said Wednesday.

Don Peacock, a co-owner of Quality Sand, also declined to comment Wednesday.

"I am not in any position to talk about it. We are in litigation and I can't say anything at all," he said.

In its legal notice filed in Third Judicial Circuit Court by attorney William J. Mateyka, Quality Sand alleges interference with the development of its property. Peacock sought to put 200 mobile homes on the property and requested a special use permit to add 125 mobile homes in March. During a Village Board meeting in March, Peacock said the village in 1972 had approved 200 mobile homes for the property.

Board members sent Quality Sand's special use permit request back to the Zoning Board of Appeals, and said it could not find approval given to Quality Sand for two mobile home parks.

More than 100 persons attended the March 24 meeting. Many stated concern that their homes would be devaluated and traffic problems would result if the board granted permission for a large mobile home park.

Quality Sand alleges the following: "The municipality — abandoned the abatement of its sewage lagoon on property owned by Quality Sand and used by Quiet Valley Subdivision and invalid annexation of property."

Incited some residents of Quiet Valley to interfere with business operations and trespass on the property, and used sham testing procedures on the property.

A July 16 letter to the village from the Illinois Department of Public Health, Mobile Homes Division, said Quality Sand had made application to construct or alter a mobile home park at Kasebery No. 2 Mobile Home Park, according to a village official.

Shoney's management apologizes to Granite

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The president of Shoney's Restaurants apologized for actions by a Shoney's representative, said Mayor Von Dee Cruse.

Cruse said that, after he sent a letter to Gary Spoleta, president of Shoney's, complaining that the city was misled about Shoney's plans for property the company was to buy on Numeeki Road, Spoleta called and said disciplinary actions had been taken against several company representatives.

"He was extremely upset. To use his own word, 'appalled,'" Cruse told the City Council on Tuesday.

"He has found my allegations are true," Cruse said.

Cruse revealed on Friday that he had discovered Shoney's planned to sell part of the land.

A letter from Shoney's to Cruse indicated the company planned to sell part of the property to Jiffy Lube, a chain of car lubrication shops.

Shoney's representatives did not tell the city of the plans while the land's rezoning from residential to commercial was becoming a heated issue several months ago.

Cruse said he found out last week Shoney's had always intended to sell part of the land, and that the company has a moratorium on building new restaurants in the St. Louis area and has delayed "indefinitely" plans to build a restaurant in the city.

He said either Spoleta or another company representative would appear before the council next week "to make it right to the people of Granite City."

Fehling Road parking reserved for residents

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Aldermen again squared off to debate giving special parking considerations to residents living on a stretch of Fehling Road.

With Mayor Von Dee Cruse casting the deciding vote, the City Council on Tuesday voted to restrict parking on the west side of Fehling Road to residents only. The proposal had been put on first reading at last week's council meeting.

The ordinance, supported by 4th Ward Aldermen Dan Partney and Sharon Perjak, has been controversial because some aldermen said they feel such a restriction grants special parking privileges on public streets to a few residents.

Under the ordinance, non-residents parking on the street adjacent to homes will be subject to a $10 to $50 fine. The area extends along one side of Fehling Road from its intersection with Yale Drive to its intersection with Bradley Avenue.

"They're only thinking about their own selves. I can't see just giving one bunch parking, I can't vote for that," said 1st

Cable problems in Madison

By Donna Kimbro
Staff writer

MADISON — Problems with Cencom Cable Co. service were discussed at the City Council meeting Tuesday night, and Alderman Ron Grzywacz suggested the aldermen take a strong stand.

Cencom representatives are to attend the next council session to discuss the issues being raised.

"I have received at least 45 calls from residents who are frustrated because they cannot get the cable company to respond to their calls for repair when the television reception goes out with the least bit of rain or wind," Grzywacz said.

He said he thinks the city should check on its contract with Cencom and see if officials can "kick" Cencom out of the city.

"The man from Cencom sat in this council room and said we would no longer have problems with reception. People still have the problem and, what is worse, they cannot get the company to respond to telephone calls."

"After 45 minutes trying to call, I finally got through and the office employee told me that

Students to receive parking tickets

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Parking tickets will be issued starting today to Granite City High School students who are illegally parked on residential streets.

Police Chief Bob Astorian said the tickets are being issued because of complaints received by residents about cars parked on 29th Street and Grand and Myrtle avenues.

The cars are either parked in no parking or limited parking zones, Astorian said.

Students are parking on the streets due to resurfacing work on lots at the high school and Coolidge Junior High School.

A police officer was sent to the high school yesterday to announce over the school's public address system that tickets will be issued, Astorian said.

"I hate to do it," Astorian said. "I don't know what else to do."

High School Principal Ken Spalding said he hasn't received any complaints concerning the parking.

The resurfacing should be finished next week, he said. The

Allen plans to run for county recorder

Collinsville Township Supervisor Terry "Bones" Allen is setting his sights on a higher political office.

Allen announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for Madison County recorder of deeds in April. The position is currently held by Ronald P. "Rink" Lucas, also a Democrat.

Lucas said this month he intends to seek re-election to a fourth term. He said he had heard that Allen might run for his office, but declined to discuss the subject further.

"I'm running to win," Allen said. "Anytime you're in politics at my level, you're always looking for something higher."

Allen said he has been approached by several businessmen and Democratic leaders in Madison County about running for recorder of deeds. He declined to identify those individuals.

Allen admitted he would face a definite challenge in the primary if Lucas seeks re-election. Democratic and Republican nominees would face each other in the November 1988 general election.

Describing himself as people-oriented, Allen said he has been accessible to his constituents in the township. He plans to remain accessible if elected to the countywide office.

"I'm probably one of the easiest township supervisors to get in touch with," Allen said. "I feel I have a real good rapport with every (Madison County) officeholder up there."

Allen began his political career in April 1977 and was elected supervisor in April 1981, being re-elected in April 1985.

Agency rescinds contract with Vandalia Bus Lines

By Roy Weiner

ST. LOUIS — The Bi-State Development Agency board on Friday voted to rescind its contract with Vandalia Bus Lines to provide expanded Call-a-Ride service in St. Louis County.

Vandalia Bus Lines is headed by Leon Streif of Granite City.

Instead of that contract, the agency will move forward with plans to purchase 27 vans that would have been used by Vandalia, and operate the expanded Call-a-Ride service with part-time union Bi-State drivers.

Bi-State officials previously considered a proposal from Robert Bartlett, president of Amalgamated Transit Union Local 788, to utilize part-time bus drivers to operate Call-a-Ride. But Vandalia then submitted a bid and Bi-State in May signed a three-year contract with the company.

faces a federal indictment charging him with submitting false bills and paying "kickbacks" to an Amtrak employee. He has denied the allegations.

On Friday, the Bi-State board reaffirmed its commitment to implement the Call-a-Ride service to parts of south county "as rapidly as possible, hopefully by Dec. 1," D'Adamo said. The south county service area being targeted for service is west of Lindbergh Boulevard and bounded generally by Interstate 44 on the west and the Mississippi River on the east.

The service provides transportation for Bi-State customers from their front doors to destinations within specified areas where there is little bus service. The service, used primarily by the elderly and handicapped, was started in far west county in September 1985 and in a section of north county in May 1986.

The federal order prohibiting Bi-State from dealing with Vandalia will not affect an earlier contract the agency had with the firm to provide Call-a-Ride service in a limited area of north county, said Rosemary Covington, Bi-State's general manager.

The contract in the works with Vanpool Services Inc., which already has received the vans for use, calls for the agency to purchase 15 standard and 12 lift-equipped vans at a cost not to exceed $625,500.

Bi-State officials had feared greater delays in expanding Call-a-Ride after suspension of its contract with Vandalia. However, outright purchase of the needed vans should enable the service to be expanded to parts of south county by the Dec. 1 target date, officials said.

Law affects veterans who file discharges

Senate Bill 146, newly signed, allows veterans to file more detailed copies of their separation or discharge papers with county recorders.

In the past, only the original copy of the separation or discharge from active duty could be filed with the county offices, and the new law permits "Member-4" copies, which include the type of separation or discharge.

Area hearts and wallets open to hemophiliac boy

Area residents have opened their hearts and their wallets to Jason Robertson of Granite City, the 6-year-old hemophiliac whose vital blood supplies will no longer be supplied through a state program.

About $1,500 has been contributed so far to a trust fund established to pay for the blood products Jason needs to survive, his mother, Tammie Robertson, said.

A petition drive urging restoration of the state program for hemophiliacs is also gathering steam. The petition drive was organized by his aunt, Paula Robertson of Wood River.

The program was among the cuts made by Gov. James Thompson last month, after the governor was unable to persuade the General Assembly that tax increases were needed.

Illinois Department of Public Health officials said the program was eliminated because of a priority given "preventive," rather than treatment, programs.

"We've had a really good response. Almost everybody has been really sympathetic and reached out," said Tammie Robertson.

She said she feels she made the right decision to "go public" about Jason's plight, despite some advice to the contrary.

"I've had a few crank calls, but there are a few weirdos in every crowd," she said. "The vast majority have been good. I couldn't count the number of calls we've had from people. People just call and say, 'Tell us what to do, who to call and who to write.' People have even offered to take us to Six Flags. I think that's really nice," she added.

She said she has heard from a few other hemophiliacs in the area, but they weren't as affected by the elimination of the program because they had some insurance coverage. They were sympathetic, but "don't want to go public," she said.

Since infancy, Jason has lived with a severe form of hemophilia, the "bleeder's disease," and is prone to spontaneous bleeding.

He needs frequent transfusions of the blood products that promote clotting. Until now, those products have always been provided through the state program.

Jason tested positive earlier this year for AIDS-related virus contracted through a transfusion, and is in a "high-risk category" for developing the deadly disease.

Because of Jason's problems, his mother's epilepsy and his sister's asthma, the family is unable to get health insurance coverage. Jason's blood products cost about $1,000 for a six-week supply.

The contributions to the trust fund will allow the family to purchase enough supplies to last into October, Tammie Robertson said.

The trust fund is at the American Heritage Bank in Granite City. Those wishing to contribute may contact the bank.

Mrs. Robertson is still hoping the petitions and a letter-writing campaign aimed at legislators and the governor will persuade the General Assembly to restore funding for the program, which has provided blood supplies to about 100 hemophiliacs a year over the past decade.

Stress management class to be offered

Stress...how to deal with it more effectively, and the coping strategies to help understand and alleviate it...is the topic of a lifestyle-changes seminar being offered through St. Elizabeth Medical Center's Going Strong Wellness Center, 22nd and Iowa streets.

The class will be offered on four consecutive Wednesdays, Sept. 9-30, from 7-8 p.m., in the center's classroom.

Taught by Bob Turck, a SENC social worker who has an extensive background in the teaching of stress management, this seminar deals with stress in nine different areas and "develops innovative coping strategies."

"This is a creative and in-depth seminar," he said. "Participants gain a deeper understanding of themselves as they learn their personal stressors and personal symptoms of stress."

The seminar also incorporates rational thinking techniques, assertiveness training, time and energy management, and relaxation therapy. Its goal is to help individuals learn to deal more effectively with the stress in their own lives.

Cost for this series is $45 per person; participants receive a variety of materials to use in managing their stress. To register, call 798-3WEL. Since enrollment is limited to 30, persons are being encouraged to register as soon as possible.

Shoney's stop plans

GRANITE CITY — Shoney's Restaurants Inc. has indefinitely postponed its plans to build a restaurant in the city. City Economic Director Alan Orbals and Mayor Von Dee Cruse said they have been informed by Shoney's representatives of Shoney's intention to sell a piece of the property on Nameoki Road slated for the restaurant.

Shoney's has plans to sell part of the land to Jiffy Lube, a chain of car lubrication shops, according to an Aug. 12 letter from the company to Cruse.

Orbals said Shoney's did not mention selling part of the land when the council debated the issue. He said knowledge of plans to put a Jiffy Lube at the site in addition to a Shoney's might have changed the way the city dealt with the issue.

BAC contract OK'ed

BELLEVILLE — A two-year contract between Belleville Area College's full-time faculty and the college's Board of Trustees was ratified Aug. 21.

The contract freezes faculty wages at their present level. It's the fourth wage freeze in six years.

Care Unit for Disabled

PONTON BEACH — A care facility for the developmentally disabled is planned as part of the proposed Chouteau Trace I, on the west side of Illinois 111, south of Interstate 270. Projected cost of the facility is $338,000.

The 15-bed supervised care unit would offer living services in a "home environment" to persons who are considered developmentally disabled but are not mentally handicapped, Stan Lucas, Chouteau Trace developer said.

Review of policemen

GRANITE CITY — Police Chief Robert Astorian has released the findings of his own internal investigation of allegations leveled against the Police Department. He said no further disciplinary action is planned or justified against officers unless there are court findings of crimes. "I lay these issues to rest," Astorian said.

Port budget projections

GRANITE CITY — Higher revenues and expenses are projected in the fiscal 1988 budget for the Tri-City Regional Port District. Revenues for the fiscal year are estimated at $1.2 million, a $300,000 increase from the previous year, said Bob Wydra, port general manager. Expenditures are projected at approximately $938,000, an increase of about $30,000 over last fiscal year, Wydra said.

Zoning law hurts

GRANITE CITY — A city zoning law is too restrictive, bad for business and should be changed, said Plan Commission Chairman Phillip Theis.

Theis urged the City Council on Aug. 18 to remove a restriction that requires a business to have at least one acre before the business can be given a "neighborhood commercial" zoning classification in city neighborhoods.

Suit planned against city

GRANITE CITY — The city has been informed that a civil suit is imminent against the city regarding the hanging death of a prisoner in a city jail cell.

The city clerk's office received a certified letter from Belleville attorney Jack Carey that the estate of the man "is about to commence a civil action against the city... for the wrongful death of Bradley Wayne Pennebaker while he was in custody of the Granite City police."

Drug policy approved

MADISON — A revised district policy on substance abuse — an approach described as strict and detailed — was adopted unanimously by School Board members Thursday night.

One section of the revised policy says, in part, "Any school staff member or administrator who reasonably suspects a student in attendance at school (of being) under the influence of alcohol/drugs; in possession of alcohol/drugs at school; or is using alcohol/drugs at school shall report the incident to an appropriate school administrator."

Henkhaus, Costello politicking among this county's Democrats

SPRINGFIELD — Two of the area officials who will likely square off in the 1988 race for the 21st District congressional seat got in some early campaigning Aug. 20.

Madison County Treasurer Michael Henkhaus and St. Clair County Board Chairman Jerry Costello worked the crowd of more than 800 attending the annual Madison County Democratic Central Committee fundraiser on Democrats Day during the State Fair.

Henkhaus gave out dozens of campaign stickers while Costello was busy working the hot, smoke-filled hotel ballroom and introducing himself to many of the Madison County Democratic activists.

The Springfield cocktail party is traditionally one of the largest gatherings of the year of Madison County Democratic leaders, who are also courted by state officeholders and candidates.

Madison County Auditor Pete Fields, who ran a strong race in the Democratic primary last year against 43-year incumbent Rep. Melvin Price, D-Belleville, was also there but did not appear to be campaigning as vigorously as Henkhaus and Costello.

Fields has also said he is considering making another run now that Price has said he will retire after this term.

Costello appears to have taken an early lead in fund-raising and lining up endorsements of labor unions.

He already has a campaign war chest of nearly $300,000 and said Aug. 20 he expects to spend close to the national average of $400,000 for a contested congressional primary election.

Henkhaus said he hopes to raise $100,000 to $150,000 but said he will have to rely more than Costello on small gifts and volunteer door-to-door efforts.

He said Costello had union endorsements "locked up before he even went in there."

Henkhaus contended Costello's big campaign fund will make him look like a "big spender" to voters and may backfire at the polls if he tries to "buy" the election.

He emphasized that no Madison County resident has been elected to Congress since before the Civil War.

Henkhaus said Madison County officials recently sent a letter to U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon, D-Belleville, asking him to remain "neutral" in the primary race, after speculation that Dixon would endorse Costello. He said Dixon hadn't replied yet.

The poll he commissioned by a Washington, D.C., firm "definitely looks good" and Henkhaus said he is now committed to making the race for Congress, although he won't formally announce until around Labor Day.

He said his campaign would be based on his record in county office and on issues, and "I'm not concerned with who else gets in the race."

Stork Exercise Club newest SEMC class

"An energetic and healthy pregnancy is our goal at the Going Strong Wellness Center's newest class, the Stork Exercise Club," said Cherie Kohler, exercise instructor.

"This class is for women in all stages of pregnancy, including postpartum. The exercises are easy to perform and the results will be apparent after several weeks. Starting date is Sept. 1."

"The classes stress non-strenuous exercise designed to improve muscle tone, reduce pregnancy-induced lower back pain, increase energy levels, and help regain pre-pregnancy body shape."

A physician's release is required prior to registration. Participants are to bring a pillow and a blanket to each class.

Classes will meet at the center, 22nd and Iowa streets on Tuesday and Thursday, Sept. 1-Oct. 22, from 7-8 p.m. Cost is $30. For more information or to register call 798-3WEL.

Woman motorist hurt

Beulah P. Davis, 74, of 2218 Ohio Ave., sustained an injury Aug. 21 when she applied the car brakes for traffic. A van operated by Christopher W. Miller, 30, of 3039 Myrtle Ave., skidded against the rear of her auto. Both had been eastbound on Niedringhaus Avenue at Madison Avenue.

Disturbance at SEMC

Rickey G. Greenman, 32, of 1713 Ferguson Ave., allegedly fought with St. Elizabeth Medical Center emergency room personnel. Security guards were holding him when officers arrived at the medical center Aug. 21. Greenman, charged with disorderly conduct, posted $52 bail.

Truck tarps missing

Frank D. Russell of Kenner, La., reported Aug. 21 that his tractor-trailer truck was looted of two large black tarpaulins and two smaller tarps, valued at $800, while the vehicle was parked at PreFab Transit Co., 1559 State St.

Toys and plants stolen

An assortment of children's toys and several potted plants were stolen at the home of Sara Campbell, 162 Briarwood Drive, she reported Aug. 21. Several other plants were damaged by the thief.

Hydraulic jack stolen

A two-ton hydraulic jack was stolen from a station wagon parked near the apartment of Charles Allison, 4301 Kirkpatrick Homes, he reported Aug. 21.

Motorist arrested here

Following an Aug. 21 accident, Cary H. Whitehead, 33, of 2436 E. 24th St., was charged with disobeying a traffic signal and driving while his license was suspended. He also was served an Alton warrant alleging failure to appear on a charge of retail theft. Whitehead was driving south on Madison Avenue when his auto collided with a car operated by Joan E. Schildman, 55, of 2140 Benton St., who was eastbound on 20th Street, reports said.

Baby-seat, bicycle gone

A 25-inch bicycle with an orange baby-seat attached to the rear frame was stolen from the front yard of Warren Kemper, 2330 Benton St., he reported Aug. 21.

Arrest in hit-run case

Carl J. Noland, 20, of Glen Carbon was arrested at the Glen Carbon police station Aug. 21 on a Granite City warrant alleging failure to appear on a traffic charge of failing to give information after striking unattended property.

Thief loots station wagon

Several items were stolen from the locked station wagon of Ploys Price, 1706 Old Alton Road, while it was at the Schnucks Market in Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

Missing are two gold chains, a gold watch, a wallet containing $28, a driver license and coins, assorted clothing items, school supplies, prescription sunglasses, a white telephone, a carton of cigarettes and several Black Hills gold jewelry pieces, including rings, bracelet, earrings and a necklace.

Money changer obtains extra cash from cashier

A total of $185 was stolen from the ticket cashier at the Nameoki Cinema Aug. 21 when a man purchased tickets for the show, using a $10 bill, and then asked the ticket seller to exchange some smaller bills for $20 bills.

The transaction became confusing and the man left before the money was discovered to be missing. A woman companion of the thief entered the cinema and asked for ice and directions, reports noted.

Conduct charge filed

Michael Alan Woodin, 21, of Granite City was charged with disorderly conduct Aug. 21 after he allegedly broke glasses, furniture and a mirror and screamed profanity at an apartment in the 1900 block of Kirkpatrick Homes. Woodin was arrested at an apartment in the 300 block of the housing complex.

Apartment is entered

JoAnn Womack, 3008 Kirkpatrick Homes, said Aug. 15 that when she returned to her home after being gone about two weeks, she found the back door and kitchen window open. Every room had been entered. She told police she would submit a list of missing items.

Portable telephone taken

A burglar entered Kim's Cuisine, 3206 Maryville Road, and removed a portable telephone, valued at about $130, Aug. 14 or 15.

Cash taken at Hoppe's

A burglar took $291 from Hoppe's Tavern, 2807 Edwardsville Road, sometime after 3 a.m. Aug. 16. Police are investigating.

Cash, food stamps taken

Mary Crable, 1003 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported that about 7 p.m. Aug. 16 someone entered her home and took her wallet, containing $160, and $100 in food stamps.

Pedestrian hit on lot behind pizza restaurant

Pedestrian Richard A. Rehms, 21, of 1556 Johnson Road, was injured at 1 a.m. Aug. 15 when he was struck by a station wagon in a rear parking lot of Pizza Hut, 1533 Johnson Road.

Driver Jasper Glaspie, 2558 Parkview Drive, said that, as he was turning a corner, he saw Rehms but was unable to stop due to faulty brakes.

After the victim fell, Glaspie said he talked to him to make sure he was all right, but left after Rehms said he wanted to call police. Glaspie later contacted police and was issued a ticket for failure to give aid or information.

Court dispositions

Sentenced to six-year term on cocaine charges

Charles F. Valle, 33, of 4906 Kirkpatrick Homes, pleaded guilty and was sentenced Aug. 11 on two counts of unlawful delivery of a controlled substance (cocaine).

Valle was sentenced by Madison County Circuit Judge Philip Rarick to six years in prison on both charges. The sentences will run concurrently.

Rarick also ordered Valle to pay a $1,700 fine and $170 special costs on the first charge and a $300 fine and $30 court costs on the second charge.

The charges were filed May 15 following an investigation by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGSI).

Probation, fines given

Dale L. Hadley Jr., 24, of 2301 Nameoki Road, pleaded guilty and was sentenced Aug. 10 on a charge of unlawful delivery of cannabis. Madison County Circuit Judge Philip Rarick sentenced Hadley to one year of probation and ordered him to pay a $250 fine, $25 special costs and $95 court costs.

The charge was filed June 1 after an investigation by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGSI).

No further prosecution on two burglary counts

Two counts of burglary against James B. Dix, 17, of 173 Big Four Place, Mitchell, will not be further prosecuted, it was decided Aug. 14 by Madison County Circuit Judge Philip Rarick.

Rarick did order Dix to pay $150 in restitution.

The charges were filed June 17 through the state's attorney's office. It was alleged that Dix entered two railroad cars owned by the Union Pacific Railroad on May 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maurer

Maurer-Strotheide

The marriage of Cynthia Gaye Strotheide and Charles Andrew Maurer was celebrated June 26 at St. Margaret of Scotland Church in St. Louis. Following the ceremony, a cocktail and dinner reception was held at the Media Club.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. Emil L. Strotheide of Granite City and Mrs. John Maurer, Madison, Ohio, and the late John Maurer.

The bride was attended by Cynthia McKenna as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Patricia Grebel of Tempe, Ariz., and Barbara Detmer.

The groom chose his brother,

John M. Maurer, as his best man. Groomsmen were Jason Strotheide, brother of the bride, John Malinkercroft and Robert Westerholt.

The former Strotheide is a student at St. Louis University, and will receive her bachelor's degree in nursing next year. She is employed by St. Mary's Health Center in Richmond Heights. Maurer is an accounting major at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and is also employed by Calco's Ltd. in St. Louis.

Following a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico, the couple is residing in Granite City.

Blanche Timmons

Blanche Timmons marks 90th year

By Maxine Duniphan

An open house at Mitchell Presbyterian Church, East Chain of Rocks Road and Greenway Drive, Aug. 5, honored Blanche Timmons, a charter member, with a 58-year membership, on her 90th birthday. The affair was hosted by the Mitchell Presbyterian Women's organization. About 50 friends and relatives joined in the celebration.

Timmons, 90, is active and lives with a granddaughter, Paula Bussmann, and her children, in Chesterfield.

She is the mother of two sons, Royce Timmons of Mitchell and the late Wayne Timmons. She has 10 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren. She also has a 94-year-old sister in Edwardsville.

Timmons is now visiting in the home of her son, Royce, and wife, Jeannette, at 530 Margaret Ave., before returning to her home in Chesterfield.

Navy Mothers donate funds

A donation of $25 to Hospice of Madison County was approved by members of the Quad-City Navy Mothers, Chapter #50, at its August business meeting conducted by Commander Mary Koresog at the VFW Hall.

The group also agreed to contribute an additional $25 for the Jason Fund and a love gift for the state commander that was to be presented at the convention Aug. 20-22 in Rockford.

Jim Burgess, a former Granite City recruiter, was a guest at the meeting. He now lives in Maryland.

Prior to the session, 14 members met at Jerry's Cafeteria for dinner then met at the VFW Hall. After the meeting, a social hour was held. The mystery package was awarded to Koresog and the special award went to Nina Motesinger.

The next meeting is scheduled for Aug. 27, the commander said.

Three earn degrees

About 3,029 students were candidates for undergraduate degrees at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale's summer commencement ceremonies Aug. 8.

Candidates from Granite City were Jiho Chang, 3129 Yale Drive, Elin Lynn Christoff, 88 Briarview Lane, and Terry W. Rujawitz, 5100 Sheila.

Mr. and Mrs. Crews announce son, Tyler

Mr. and Mrs. Bob (Denise) Crews, of Granite City, announced the birth of a boy born Aug. 2 at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

The new arrival has been named Tyler Andrew Crews, and he weighed 7 pounds, 5 ounces. He has a sister, Courtney Renee, 2½.

1 Thessalonians 5:17 "Pray without ceasing."

Praying men mean more than men who say prayers. Prayer is a mighty force that moves God and men. Prayer keeps the door to Heaven open to believers. It gives Holy Boldness to approach the throne of grace! It lets us find that help in time of need.

Prayer without ceasing. If you feel that God hasn't answered your prayer, don't quit praying! Don't give up! God hears and answers prayer. It could be possible that determination is what you need more than anything else.

Be faithful. Be persistent. Be humble. Be sure your answer is coming.

Why not try prayer today!

Shriners benefit Saturday

Nobles of Ainal Shrine Temple will conduct a special news-stand sale Saturday, Aug. 29, featuring news about the Shriner's Hospitals for Crippled Children.

Shriners wearing red fezzes and yellow vests will be on the streets Saturday seeking donations for the Shriner's hospitals.

The Shrine operates 22 hospitals in North America. The Shrine Hospital network consists of 19 orthopedic and three burn hospitals, where treatment is free, regardless of race, creed or relationship to a Shriner.

Ainal Temple, one of the 189 temples in Shrineland, has 8,700 members in Southern Illinois, from Interstate 70 south to Cairo.

Persons knowing a crippled or burned child are asked to tell a Shriner, Daryl Few, local representative said.

GOP Women donate funds, plan dance

The Granite City Republican Women's Club opened the fall season Saturday, with a luncheon at Jerry's Cafeteria.

Vernice Walter presided, and Leona Bell, Americanism chairman, led the group in prayer and the pledge. Aug. 26 will be the first official "Women's Day" commemorating the anniversary of the 19th Amendment, and members were reminded to wear red, white and blue on that day, Bell said.

Gladys Pape, secretary, and Virginia Segar, treasurer, gave their reports, and Verna Michel said 25 telephone calls were made on behalf of the club.

Louise Thompson, community service chairman, said the Hospice project will be completed by November.

Irma Taylor accepted a $25 donation for the Old Six Mile Historical Society. Susan Walton, a university aero-space engineering student spoke on the Strategic Defense Initiative.

Clara Schilling became a new member.

Junior and Senior groups performed at the annual Croation Home picnic held June 6 and 7. They were also invited to perform at the Benid Croation picnic held July 26. On Aug. 14, the Tamburitzans were guest performers in the Ethnic Village at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield.

Plans are being made to participate in the Glenfest Parade and Picnic in Glen Carbon on Aug. 29. On Sept. 12, they will entertain the Legionnaires at the Venice-Madison Post 307. The Senior Group is preparing for its first Senior Tamburitzan Festival to be held in Pittsburgh on Nov. 21 and 22.

Lee and Linda (Novose) Robertson of Granite City are announcing the birth of their first child. The boy was born Aug. 6 at Jewish Hospital in St. Louis and weighed 3 pounds, 5 ounces. He has been named Aaron Lee. Grandparents are Nick and Dorothy Novosek of Madison and Bob and Loretta Seipp of Trenton, Ill.

Bill and Donna Hoover had as their houseguest for a month their nephew Henry (Hank) Belch of Norfolk, Va. While here, he attended the 11th birthday of Judy Hoover on Aug. 3. A family dinner and birthday cake was served. Her brother, Ed Hoover, treated her to an afternoon of driving go-carts, playing miniature golf and watching a movie.

Also attending were Gloria Hartman, Chris and Mike Hartman, and Hank Belch.

In the evening, Hoover attended a bowling banquet at Granite City Bowl, where she received two trophies: one for most improved player and one for being a 100 scorer. She is a member of an adult-child league. Members of the Unpredictables team are Ed Hoover, Florin Hartman, Hoover and Steven Miller, all of Madison.

Glik retirees met Aug. 20 at the home of Juanita Rosenberg. They had lunch at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows in Belleville and returned to Rosenberg's home for an afternoon of cards. Also attending were Celeste Johnson, Mary Moore and Helen Knezevich.

Ed Tutka celebrated his birthday Aug. 17 with breakfast at Leona Voloski's Park Grill in Venice.

Attending were Al and Barbara Paskus, Mike and Gerry Gulash, John and Louise Papa, Lucille and Al Moosa, and Polly Tutka, the honoree's wife.

In the afternoon, a family get-together was held at Tutka's home. Attending were his wife, Polly Tutka; and Jim and Carol Tutka and children, Joe and Kim of Troy, Ill.; Maryann Fortae and children, Eddie and Darrell of Collinsville; and Pat and Mike McCarter and children, Brian and Kerri of St. Peters, Mo.

The Ruth Sunday School Class met Aug. 18 at the home of Loretta Hill. Vesta Williams opened the meeting with prayer. President Altha Lanson conducted a business meeting, with Secretary Mary Moore and Treasurer Fay Little giving reports. It was decided to keep a scrapbook of class activities. Loretta Hill will be in charge.

The group will provide meals for a recuperating member of the church.

Lanson gave the devotional and closed the meeting with prayer. Games were played, with prizes won by Marge Lewis Moore and Hill. Refreshments were served to Pansy Grace, Gladys Patterson, Lyle Emery, Marge Purcell and guest, Mary McKee.

The September meeting will be at the home of Lanson.

The PRCU Polish Dancers performed at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield on Aug. 19. Performing were "Big Group" Jennifer Romanic, Jennifer Stmac, Toni Mendez, Melissa Kusmierczak, Chris Kult, Stephanie Kult, Wendy Budnicki, Denise Fronczak and Julie Hentart.

"Little Group" Linda Dohnal, Cindy Bisto, Tim Neukum, Angela Waytas and Christine Waytas. Accompanying the group was Director Regina Forsy, dance instructor Lisa Dohnal, Ann Bisto and son, Chris. Kathy Dohnal, Helen Romanic, Rich and Gerry Mendez, Ann Kusmierczak, Judy Kult, Helen Budnicki, Joan Hentart, Joann and Bill Neukum, Debbie Waytas and Rick Harris. Classes will resume at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 9 at the Polish Hall, Madison.

Obituaries

Berger

Marguerite Berger, 91, a long-time resident of Granite City, died at 1:10 p.m. Monday, Aug. 24, 1987, at the Madison County Nursing Home, Edwardsville, where she resided for one year.

She was born in Kane, Ill. Mrs. Berger was a member of St. John United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Berger was employed as a bookkeeper in the local office of the American Red Cross for 17 years and retired in 1969.

Her husband, Albert Berger, died in 1943.

Survivors include nieces and nephews all living out of town with the exception of Fred Fossieck of Granite City.

The Rev. Allen J. Reiter officiated at 10 a.m. services Wednesday at Davis Funeral Home Chapel, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard. Burial was at Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville.

Buckingham

Floyd S. Buckingham, 71, of Edwardsville, brother of local residents, died at 2 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 26, 1987, at his home.

He was born in Melbourne, Ky. and retired in 1982 from Granite City Steel as a supervisor after 34 years of service.

Mr. Buckingham and his wife, the former Genevieve Clark, who survives, were married Sept. 25, 1938.

Other survivors include one son, Ronald Buckingham of Herrin, Ill.; two daughters, Mrs. Eugene (Karen) Unger, Lima, Ill., and Mrs. Robert (Madonna) Hettenhouse, Edwardsville; eight grand-children; one great-grandchild; three brothers, Lloyd Buckingham, Granite City, John Buckingham, St. Louis, and Donald Buckingham, Marietta; and one sister, Mrs. Grant (Louise) Acecos, Granite City.

Visitation will be from 4 to 9 p.m. today at Mater Funeral Home, 210 N. Kansas, Edwardsville. The Rev. Gary Doller will officiate at 11 a.m. services Friday at Esic University Baptist Church, Edwardsville, with burial at Valley View Cemetery, Edwardsville. Memorials are requested for the church's building fund.

Fox

Fred B. Fox, 56, of Granite City, died at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 25, 1987, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was admitted two days earlier.

A 45-year local resident, Mr. Fox was born in Poplar Bluff, Mo. He retired in 1980 from Granite City Steel as a crane operator after 30 years of service.

Mr. Fox was of the Protestant faith.

Area deaths reported in this week's Sunday and Wednesday newspapers include:

DANIELS, George Eddie, 72, of 529 Salvater Ave., Venice, died at 11:42 p.m. Monday, Aug. 17, 1987, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The Rev. L.C. Calmes officiated at 1 p.m. Friday funeral services at Friendship Baptist Church. Burial was at Sunset Gardens of Memory Cemetery, Millstadt. Officer Funeral Homes was in charge of the arrangements.

DANT, Gladys M., 85, of 1715 Third St., Madison, died at 11:20 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 22, 1987, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The Rev. Jim Keefner celebrated a 10 a.m. Tuesday funeral Mass at St. Mary Catholic Church, 10th Street and Alton Avenue, Madison, with burial at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville. Lahey-Sedlack Funeral Home, 615 Madison Ave., Madison, was in charge of the arrangements.

FENDLER, Frank W., 72, of 714 Carl St., Collinsville, died at 8:40 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 20, 1987, at his home. Funeral services were held Saturday at Fendler Undertaking Co., St. Louis, with burial at Parklawn Cemetery, Lemay, Mo. Local arrangements were made by Werner Chapel for Funerals, 3839 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach.

FILTER, Gladys J. (Wilson),

He and his wife, Cathy Fox, who survives, were married Oct. 4, 1964, in Granite City.

Other survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Carbaugh, Granite City, and one grandchild.

Visitation will begin at 4 p.m. today at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., where the Rev. Artie Rivers will hold 11 a.m. services Friday. Burial will be at St. John Cemetery, 2901 Nameoki Road.

He was preceded in death by a brother, Wade Gergen.

Visitation began at 5 p.m. Wednesday and will continue all day today and this evening at Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road, where Dr. Prince Claybrook will officiate at 1 p.m. services Friday. Burial will be at Palmer's Hill Cemetery, Columbia, Ill.

On a couple of occasions I had the opportunity to introduce Paul as a guest speaker, and he charmed local organizations by telling anecdotes about many members of the audience, easily recognizing their faces and recalling their names.

In early 1965, shortly after he was elected to the U.S. Senate, I watched him conduct a "town hall meeting" before an over-capacity audience at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Before it began, he stood at the front door to greet hundreds of people with "Hi, Jim" and "Glad to see you, Barbara."

How he developed such a memory I don't know, but he certainly has the knack.

Whether a photographic memory can get you elected president of the United States remains to be seen, but he is putting it to good use on the campaign trail, judging by dispatches from "Paul Simon Day" at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield on Aug. 20.

Dennis McMurray, Alton Telegraph state capital bureau chief, says Simon told Madison County Democrats that night, "You are the people who started it all for me."

Simon "greeted by first name many of those who pushed up to shake his hand or pose with him for snapshots."

When Edwardsville native Bill Ryan shook Simon's hand, the senator noted he "knew your father real well" and recalled seeing Ryan when he was just a small boy. Ryan's father covered the Madison County Courthouse for the Telegraph.

The elder Ryan's article about Simon's first run for the legislature, referring to him as the "giant" emerging from the cave, has been cited by Simon ever since as the catalyst for his trademark neckwear.

Many of the local residents present Thursday night were bow ties in Simon's honor. Among them was Madison County Democratic Chairman Mac Warfield of Granite City.

Also sporting a red bow tie, U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon predicted Simon could be one of the two "giants" emerging from the Iowa caucuses and New Hampshire primary in early 1988.

"Warfield and other county party chairmen from Illinois, in a unanimous vote Aug. 20, endorsed Simon's campaign for the White House."

I've known Paul Simon since we were both "young crime-fighting newspapermen" in Madison County in the late 1940s, before we became members of Uncle Sam's Army in the early 1950s.

Simon "greeted by first name many of those who pushed up to shake his hand or pose with him for snapshots."

When Edwardsville native Bill Ryan shook Simon's hand, the senator noted he "knew your father real well" and recalled seeing Ryan when he was just a small boy. Ryan's father covered the Madison County Courthouse for the Telegraph.

The elder Ryan's article about Simon's first run for the legislature, referring to him as the "giant" emerging from the cave, has been cited by Simon ever since as the catalyst for his trademark neckwear.

Many of the local residents present Thursday night were bow ties in Simon's honor. Among them was Madison County Democratic Chairman Mac Warfield of Granite City.

Also sporting a red bow tie, U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon predicted Simon could be one of the two "giants" emerging from the Iowa caucuses and New Hampshire primary in early 1988.

"Warfield and other county party chairmen from Illinois, in a unanimous vote Aug. 20, endorsed Simon's campaign for the White House."

He and his wife, Cathy Fox, who survives, were married Oct. 4, 1964, in Granite City.

Other survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Carbaugh, Granite City, and one grandchild.

Visitation will begin at 4 p.m. today at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., where the Rev. Artie Rivers will hold 11 a.m. services Friday. Burial will be at St. John Cemetery, 2901 Nameoki Road.

He was preceded in death by a brother, Wade Gergen.

Visitation began at 5 p.m. Wednesday and will continue all day today and this evening at Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road, where Dr. Prince Claybrook will officiate at 1 p.m. services Friday. Burial will be at Palmer's Hill Cemetery, Columbia, Ill.

On a couple of occasions I had the opportunity to introduce Paul as a guest speaker, and he charmed local organizations by telling anecdotes about many members of the audience, easily recognizing their faces and recalling their names.

In early 1965, shortly after he was elected to the U.S. Senate, I watched him conduct a "town hall meeting" before an over-capacity audience at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Before it began, he stood at

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph (Doris) Burton and daughter, Tonya, 160 Douglas Place, have returned from Sacramento, Calif., where they visited Burton's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don (Sharon) Burton and daughter, Vicki. The two families visited San Francisco and Reno, Nev. They also enjoyed a trip to the coast and a deep-sea fishing trip. They returned home Tuesday in time for Mrs. Burton to open her shop, The Hairbenders in Mitchell.

Coach Rick Ryan and his Little League softball Brownies captured the second-place trophy in the Mitchell Athletic Association league play, Aug. 10, to conclude the season.

Team members are Michelle Bringer, Mandy Colbert, Nicole Hamilton, Val Mattocks, Dena Mayes, Melody Potts, Danielle Rinehart, Hillary Ryan, Holly Ryan, Hillary Sanders, Trisha Sumpter, Jill Wozniak, Christina Ragan and Stacy San Soucie. All are members of Girl Scout Troop 323, Diana Ryan, wife of the coach, was the assistant coach.

Scoutmaster Norman Richter, 2205 Miracle Drive, and three Scouts from Troop 14 went on a 10-mile hike at Scott Air Force Base on Aug. 23. They also toured the base before returning home.

Those taking the hike were Norman Richter Jr., Eric Vallo, Scott Schaus, the Scoutmaster, assistant Scoutmaster David Schaus, Mike Ceske and committee member, Dan Vallo.

Several area residents, including Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Duniphan, 633 Chouteau Ave., have returned from southeast Missouri, where they attended the VFW Homecoming in Puxico, Mo., held Aug. 12-15.

concerts, and a parade. Refreshments included carnival rides, cotton candy and funnel cakes. The VFW sells "goatbergers" and soft drinks.

For a few days each year, Puxico is the place to meet old friends and family.

Former teachers and students of South East Missouri schools of Fry, McGee, Union Hill and Yokum, in rural Wayne County, Mo., are invited to a reunion to be held at the Wappapello Civic Center, Wappapello, Mo., Sept. 19. This will be the fourth reunion of the former students since the small community schools were merged into the larger city schools in the early 1960s.

The idea for the reunion originated with three members of the Morgan family in 1984. Two sisters, Sylvia Smith and Hattie Perkins, and their aunt, Mary Duniphan, started the project.

Everyone who attends is asked to bring old pictures, a camera and a covered dish. There will be prizes, surprises and a short talk by a former teacher.

Cletis (Buck) Wilfong, president, will be the master of ceremonies. He and his wife, the former Vergie Willis, reside in Springfield, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Tsigolaroff

Tsigolaroff-Sotiroff

Christine Marie Sotiroff and Anthony Philip Tsigolaroff were married Aug. 1 at Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church, Decatur, Ill., by the bride's brother, the Rev. Steven Sotiroff.

The bride is the daughter of Chris and Betty Sotiroff of Decatur, and the groom is the son of Philip and Penka Tsigolaroff of Granite City.

The maid of honor was Jennifer Miller of Geneseo, Ill., and the bridesmaid was Karla Sullivan.

The best man was Denny Holt. The groomsmen were Nick Tsigolaroff, a brother of the groom, and the ringbearer was Jason Sotiroff, a nephew of the bride.

Ushers were Michael Sotiroff, Decatur, and Edward Sotiroff, Schaumburg, Ill., brothers of the bride.

A reception was held at Our Lady of Lourdes gymnasium. After a wedding trip to Orlando, Fla., the couple moved to Decatur.

The bride is a graduate of Illinois State University, Normal, Ill., with a bachelor's degree in special education as a teacher of trainable and severely handicapped students.

The groom is a graduate of SIUE with a bachelor's degree in computer science. He is a computer programmer.

Friends hold reunion

Old friends and former neighbors, many from out of town, gathered for luncheon at Ravanelli's Restaurant, last week, for a reunion, and, on Friday, several more friends met at the American Legion in Collinsville for a fish dinner and social.

Marie (Gatting) Irtman of Winston-Salem, N.C., and Ruth Ann (Gatting) Kane of Bartlesville, Okla., were in town for the 60th wedding anniversary celebration of their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Eldred (Bernice Gatting) Starling who now live in Washington, Mo.

On Wednesday, they met with sister Virginia (Gatting) Gardner of Troy, Ill., at the local restaurant to talk with old school friends. Others attending were Juanita Ruth (Hill) Craycraft, Marguerite (Tedder) Kennedy, Francis Faye (Colp) Poole, Harriet (Pendleton) Juda, Dorothy (Onderdonk) Burgess, Verda (Rainwater) Briggs, Ona (Clark) Blevins, Olive (Favler) Sigile and Eupile (Robinson) Tarris.

Those present for the Friday night affair included Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Doris Jean Simpson) Mathews, Helen Bergfield, Frances Faye (Colp) Poole, Ona (Clark) Blevins, Mr. and Mrs. Roland (Murphy) (Marguerite Tedder) Kennedy, Sharon (DaMotte) Loftus, Donna (DaMotte) Kimbro.

Mr. and Mrs. Al (Marie Gatting) Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil (Dorothy Onderdonk) Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. Jack (Rosalee Hagard) Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Dick (Dolores) Yates, Mr. and Mrs. Upton (Virginia Gatting) Gardner, Bill Gatting, Audrey Clutter, Don and Joan LeMay, and Tony and Phyllis Boster.

Constitution, Bill of Rights contest set

Rose Mansfield has been selected by U.S. Rep. Melvin Price to coordinate the National Bicentennial Competition on the Constitution and Bill of Rights for the 21st Congressional District of Illinois.

Mrs. Mansfield is a social studies teacher at Althoff Catholic High School in Belleville. The national competition is co-sponsored by the Commission on the Bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution and funded by the commission under an Act of Congress. The program has the capacity to reach more than 1,000,000 students each year for the next five years. Beginning this fall, high school classes participating in the competition will study a six-week instructional program designed to foster an understanding of the fundamental principles of this nation's constitutional democracy and the history of its development.

Following the instruction, classes have the option to compete as teams in mock Congressional hearings at the district, state and national levels.

All students who participate in the instructional program will receive an award certificate signed by Price.

Further, all students who pass an exam on the material will be given a special certificate of Mansfield has been working with educators and community leaders in the 21st District to coordinate implementation of the competition.

At least 10 high schools in the district will begin the competition in September. "This program will serve to revitalize educational programs on the Constitution in our schools," she predicted.

For information, high schools may write to Cong. Mel Price, 2110 Rayburn Building, Washington, D.C. 20515 and ask for National Bicentennial Competition material.

Lutheran High names principal

Sigmund Bohnet, new principal at Metro-East Lutheran High School, Edwardsville, will be installed on Aug. 30 during the 7:45 a.m. service at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Collinsville.

Bohnet previously served as principal in Mayer, Minn., and New York City. He received a degree in education at Concordia Teachers' College, Seward, Neb.

His master's degree in education was earned at Queen's College, Flushing, N.Y. Bohnet earned a specialist certificate in secondary school administration from the University of Minnesota.

His wife, Kathleen, will teach fourth grade this year at Good Shepherd Lutheran School. The couple has two sons.

William Lochmann will also be installed on Aug. 30 as athletic director, physical education coach and instructor of religion at Metro-East High.

The Collinsville native earned a master's degree in education and previously was affiliated with Lutheran High School, Dallas, Texas.

Returning full- and part-time faculty members are Ronald Henschen, Vickie Gillespie, Lynn Granger, Sue Hasselbring, Karen Henschen, Mark Meschke, Lynn North, Rona Schiefelbein, John and Karen Shimkus and Daria Coppedge.

Staff assistants are Delores Ketcham, Judy Cochran and Rich Holbert. Metro-East, 1001 Center Grove Road, has 140 students.

Fifteen area Lutheran parishes in Madison County support the institution.

Classes for the 1987-88 year began on Aug. 24.

Schools to be more accessible

SPRINGFIELD — As part of an effort to help remove architectural barriers that confront handicapped students in schools, Illinois is eligible to receive $2.28 million in federal funds from the U.S. Department of Education.

The funds will be used to alter existing buildings and equipment to make them consistent with standards established under the Architectural Barriers Act of 1968.

The federal dollars are provided through an Emergency Jobs Bill. Under the federal law, the funds are to be used in a manner which creates new employment opportunities for individuals, and state education agencies are required to give special consideration to projects in geographic areas experiencing high rates of unemployment.

Copies of the federal application for the $2.28 million will be available for public review at the State Board's three offices from now to Sept. 30. The offices are located at 100 North First St. in Springfield; 100 West Randolph St. in State of Illinois Center in Chicago; and Suite 214 at 123 South 19th St. in Mount Vernon.

Irresponsible spending by university

To the editor:

AFSCME Local 2887 representing the clerical and technical bargaining units at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is deeply concerned about the state budget reductions announced by Gov. James Thompson in the amount of $683 million.

Higher education is to absorb cuts of $53 million, according to Thompson.

We are not so much concerned with the reductions as we are with the excuse this gives the SIUE administration to further discriminate against the civil service employees who are the lowest paid group of all faculty and staff at the university.

SIU Vice Chancellor James M. Brown has been quoted as saying there would be a salary freeze for all faculty, staff and administrators.

Pres. Earl Lazerson has indicated that SIUE faculty and staff will receive salary increases only if they are promoted and are being paid less than the minimum set for their new positions.

Lazerson has been quoted as saying that SIUE has made "substantial progress" in the last few years and that the cuts will wipe out our progress. The AFSCME employees have not made progress. He can only be referring to the progress made by the administrators.

We are concerned with the extremely low salaries paid to the majority of the civil service employees represented by AFSCME on the SIUE campus. One-third of our 400 employees are paid less than $1,000 a month.

Last year our clerical employees were earning 35 percent less than their counterparts.

This year the gap has widened even further. This information is based on the report of the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE).

Last year the administration gave selected deans raises ranging from 15 to 43 percent, using the IBHE report to prove the increases were in line with other universities. They refused to let AFSCME use the same report to substantiate our claims of low salaries, saying it was invalid.

They gave other administration raises ranging from 15 to 60 percent. They spent over $200,000 for legal fees to a union-busting law firm from Chicago (not even hiring attorneys from our own area to help our own economy). They spent $25,000 ($13,900 in gifts) hosting a delegation from China.

They set aside $1 million for the Freshmen First program proposed by former Vice President and Provost Barbara Teters, but they are having problems getting the faculty to agree that it is a good plan.

But they would not give enough to the civil service employees even to make a gesture toward starting to decrease the salary problem.

What else have they done? Among other things, they have:

1. Hired a new president at SIUC at $106,000, keeping the former one on as a professor at $79,200. He was getting $89,283 when he stepped down from the position as president last year.
2. Hired a new VP & Provost at SIUE at $73,000, keeping the former one on in a loosely defined position at the $66,000 she was getting when she resigned from the position.
3. Planned to spend $162,000 to remodel and redecorate a residence for the chancellor.

If they are at all concerned, they can cut their salaries and cut out the irresponsible spending.

Harris grateful to have served city

To the editor:

The time has come to resolve my status with the Granite City Police Department.

I have thoroughly relished my opportunity to be a police officer. As a policeman, I have been privileged to see folks in our community in all their diversity. And I have stood alongside them when their lives were most intense.

Because of what I have seen and where I have stood, I have learned and grown as an officer and as a human being. I am most fortunate to have been given this privilege to serve as a police officer.

The diversity and intensity of human life can be overwhelming at times. And these very qualities which make being a police officer so rewarding can also make it most agonizing.

Ultimately, police work is nothing more than one vulnerable person dealing with another vulnerable person. And a police officer can only function effectively with the confidence and support of the community.

I have appreciated the trust and support this community has given me in my 23 years as a commissioned officer.

We are a community and a nation of laws. Our laws help insure the safety of all our citizens, whether they regulate traffic or deadly weapons.

Our laws provide justice for those who are less powerful and rich. The law applies equitably to everyone, whether they be high public officials or high school students just getting a driver's license.

Our laws insure orderliness in our public life. They make us accountable to each other and facilitate the efficiency and prosperity of our community. And only by due process of law can one be punished for an offense against the community.

I have been extremely honored to be a servant of the law in this community, a law enforcement officer.

It is only with this deep devotion to the law, a sincere affection for the people of Granite City, and a profound appreciation for my vocation as a police officer that I announce my retirement. The time has come for me to move on. And I wish and pray for the best for the Granite City Police Department.

WILLIAM D. HARRIS

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

In most instances, an employee is either operating under an oral agreement which does not specify how long the employment relationship will last. A worker in this situation is known as an "at-will employee," and he generally can be discharged for any reason or for no reason at all. There are, however, certain exceptions to this at-will employee doctrine, such as where the employee is discharged for filing a workers' compensation claim.

In one recent case, the defendant owned a retail business in southern Illinois. It was a combined grocery store, hardware store and dry-goods store, and the plaintiff had worked in the store for 23 years. In July of 1985, the plaintiff fell on ice in the store's parking lot and broke his hip. Surgery was performed, and he missed six months of work. He filed a workers' compensation claim, and when the doctor finally gave him a partial release to return to work, the owner of the store laid him off.

The employee filed a complaint in the circuit court against his former employer. He alleged that the store owner had discharged him for exercising his rights granted to him by the Workers' Compensation Act. He also asked the Court to recognize a new cause of action for the employer's breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing in that the defendant discharged him without reasonable cause.

What rights does an employee have when he is laid off under these circumstances? Can he recover money damages from the employer who terminated him? The defendant in the present case asserted that he discharged the plaintiff because of a 20-25% decline in business. The plaintiff, on the other hand, argued that the store owner laid him off because he filed a workers' compensation claim. He also claimed the employer failed to deal with him in good faith.

The Appellate Court noted that if an employee is discharged for filing a workers' compensation claim, he can recover money damages for retaliatory discharge. This is one exception to the general rule that an at-will employee can be fired for any reason or for no reason at all. The Appellate Court, however, refused to recognize the claim that the employer failed to deal with the employee in good faith.

Shoney's still trustworthy

Shoney's management proved it plans to deal fairly with Granite City. Earlier this week, the opposition seemed true.

Mayor Von Dee Cruse and his administration had taken severe criticism for supporting a zoning change to allow a Shoney's Restaurant on Nameoki Road. That support was unfairly repaid by a Shoney's representative who didn't tell the City Council the whole story. The persons didn't say some of the land would be sold to Jiffy Lube, an automotive service business.

Adding Jiffy Lube to Shoney's request might have made no difference in the voting result, but the mayor, council and home owners deserved to know.

A top-level Shoney's manager told Cruse on Tuesday that the city was supposed to know about Jiffy Lube. The company's representative was fired.

Shoney's response to the mishandled zoning request is important. Because it appeared the mayor's pro-business philosophy would backfire, stricter controls on proposed businesses might have resulted.

Shoney's can do anything it wants to do with the re-zoned land, and selling some of it to Jiffy Lube could benefit everyone. But Shoney's management has shown it is not callous, that it wants to work with the city to correct the way in which Jiffy Lube was introduced.

Friendship requires trust. Through its responsiveness to Granite City, Shoney's has shown the company is trustworthy.

Schermer files for board

With the filing period ending early this week, it is still too early to reach final conclusions about the Belleville Area College board election Nov. 3. But there are two positive developments.

One is that Avery Schermer of Granite City has filed for a trustee position. A past BAC board chairman, he has a wealth of experience on the board where he served effectively for a number of years. A former college-level teacher himself, he also has business expertise.

The other positive note is that a coalition of candidates appears to be forming. So far, those associated with Schermer are taking a positive approach. Unfortunately, another group of candidates seems to have negative goals, such as a reversal of time-tested policies and a shake-up in the staff.

With 11 persons running for four board positions, there is intense competition, and ample time for issues to be discussed in detail. We hope all aspirants will make their views and intentions clearly known.

A proposed new law may set up multiple voting areas from which to choose trustees in future BAC elections. This would assure representation for areas like Madison County.

This fall's voting will take place throughout the large district, creating a considerable challenge for candidates who do not reside within the heavily-populated heart of the college's territory.

Data panel can be useful

As 1980s newspaper people, we know enough about the computer world to be certain that compatibility is important. When one set of computer terminals won't mesh with another set, or when there is a lack of "user friendly" modifications, life — and efficiency — can be difficult.

This being true, the Madison County Board has established a data processing committee, with Alan Dunstan as chairman and Frank Laub and Herschel Beane as members. Coordination is needed because of the diversity of county offices and functions.

One of the factors taken into account is the sheer volume of county governmental work now being performed with computer help. Dunstan notes, "It's taking more and more of the county's money and there is no more federal revenue sharing to use for special projects. We're going to have to plan carefully and set priorities."

We would guess the committee will prove to be highly useful.

Police patrols continuing

Illinois State Police are doing the right thing in continuing their patrols in East St. Louis. Crime is much too prevalent there for the troopers to simply "wash their hands" of the problem and drive away.

Although the General Assembly passed the ISP budget request for 1987-88, including East St. Louis patrols, the governor vetoed the extra funds due to the state government's overall budget imbalance.

Now, the State Police have "sharpened their pencils" and found a solution. Maj. Ronald Grimming, leader of the 16-member detail, says, "We're covering East St. Louis without any additional expenses. It's part of the control function of District 11."

When the mission was undertaken 13 months ago, it cost the department extra money for travel and living costs. All those who resided outside District 11 have since been transferred into the district and therefore are living in the vicinity of where they work.

With street gangs still flourishing, Grimming feels "we have an obligation to provide police protection to the community." East St. Louisans "can't do it for themselves because of economic constraints," he says, adding: "This help benefits the whole Metro East community — those who travel through or those from Missouri who do business here. We have a role in trying to maintain order."

Present state policy is that the assignment is to be continued until a satisfactory alternative is devised. We wholeheartedly con-

United Way in 2nd century

To the editor:

1987 marks the centennial of the United Way movement. United Way's mission — "To increase the organized capacity of people to care for one another" — reflects our history and projects our future.

The first United Way organization was formed in response to a community crisis in 1887. Denver, Colo., — having grown from 5,000 to 100,000 citizens in seven years — could not meet the needs of its residents and boom-town fortune hunters. Four clergymen — a priest, a rabbi, and two ministers — responded to calls for help by planning a combined fundraising appeal and establishing the Charity Organization Society. The new organization of 10 agencies got off to a good start: the first joint appeal raised $21,700 in November, 1888. Thus the United Way philosophy was born: a coordinated, community-wide effort to solve problems.

From 1887 onward, the United Way concept spread across the country. The United Way of the Tri-Cities Area was founded in 1943 committed to providing health and human care services to those in need. The first campaign in 1943 raised over $50,000.

The Tri-Cities Area United Way 1986 Campaign raised over $750,000. Twenty-one agencies are the recipients of the campaign funds.

Traditionally, United Way has been known as a fundraising organization. We are pleased to be recognized for the efficient manner in which we have raised funds by conducting a single community-wide appeal for our 21 agencies. But we are so much more than just fundraisers. As we enter our second century, the challenge confronting us is to be even "better," to be a catalyst for addressing the critical human needs of our community.

In 1987, the United Way is addressing critical human needs such as: teenage drug and alcohol abuse by providing support to Piassa Health Care; providing funding to assist with home-delivered meals for elderly persons in need of this service; through Phoenix Crisis Center helping victims who have suffered domestic violence and physical abuse; providing quality day care for families who can't afford the full cost.

The Tri-Cities Area United Way is committed to becoming an even better organization in our second century of community service. Our United Way, along with hundreds of other United Ways nationwide, has set two major goals for ourselves over the next five years: 1) To become an even more open and caring organization and 2) To vastly increase our resources — both in the amount of dollars raised, and in the number of people who volunteer for United Way.

These goals will be accomplished by continuing to do what we do best: namely: Community program solving — identifying local problems and taking steps to resolve or improve them; fund distribution — looking at creative ways to fund new services; single community-wide campaign — uniting the community in fundraising and in spirit; inclusiveness — reaching out to involve more people, more agencies, and working with neighboring United Ways; and finally year-round communication — helping people to better understand United Way by educating them.

Why are we set on achieving these goals? Because critical human needs continue to go unmet, and United Way can play a key role in addressing these needs. We have done a good job in realizing the vision of the four religious leaders who got together in 1887 and formed the first United Way. We remain committed to pulling people together to meet community needs.

In 1987, our centennial year, United Ways have adopted a new theme: United Way — it brings out the best in all of us. This new theme was chosen to communicate that United Way is more than just a way to give; it is a way to care — the best way to care. Overall, the theme helps set us on the course of caring and sharing. That will be the core of our second century.

Letters policy

The Granite City Press-Record welcomes letters to the editor. The newspaper provides the "Letters" column to give readers an opportunity to voice opinions on various items of interest. Letters should be brief, typed letters, or letters that are neatly written are given priority treatment. Preference is also given to locally originated letters, but letters from outside the area are accepted.

Each letter must be signed and include the telephone number of the author. Authors may be called for verification purposes.

Offers another big bang theory

I have always felt that space exploration affords maximum bang for the buck.

Our harvest of technology just in the field of medicine has long since amortized investment.

Indeed, the money we spent on space research mostly stays home, recirculating through the pockets of American workers in Seattle and St. Louis, San Diego and Detroit — wherever components are researched and manufactured.

Of all our government's expenditures, none has paid more generous dividends.

Then came the spectacular mishap of Jan. 28, 1986, when our Challenger shuttle exploded minutes after takeoff and its seven crew members died.

This sad experience scared us out of the space race altogether.

Jane's Spaceflight Directory periodically audits that subject worldwide.

The 1987 edition says that the Soviets are making steady gains in space while the U.S. space program is mostly dormant.

The publishers believe that the United States has lost heart since the Challenger disaster.

A NASA spokesman denies it, insists that the U.S. space program is coming back stronger, safer, better.

Yet most of what's being planned by NASA, right now involves "unmanned missions."

Last year we launched six unmanned rockets. The Soviets at the same time were launching 81.

We are still debating the merits of an orbiting space station. The Soviets already have five cosmonauts living in one.

NASA boasts that it will have the Shuttle "fixed" and flying again by next June.

That time the Soviets will have 12 different launchers including a shuttle.

So, the respected publishers of Jane's conclude, "The United States is now 10 years behind and is not even trying to catch up."

Thus we, who were first to put men on the moon, may be last to do anything else of significance.

Have we, intimidated by one accident, become too careful? Has NASA lost its confidence and its will to put people in space?

The future, as always, belongs to the risk-takers.

What services should expand?

What city services or programs would you like to see expanded or begun to better serve the citizens or do you think there are services that are wasting tax money and need to be cut?

Barb Champion, Granite City

"We've started a program on drug awareness at school. Maybe the city could do something to get a citywide drug awareness program going. It might help."

Richard Patton, Granite City

"If you expand the services, taxes will go up. There are no free rides. We've lost several thousand people over the last few years and the city budget should be cut."

Harry Diak, Granite City

"The street department on taxation or whatever it takes to improve the streets. I think the city-sponsored programs to aid the elderly should continue and possibly be expanded."

Big PAC bucks bolster campaigns

By David Rocks
P-RJ Washington bureau
WASHINGTON — The top area political action committees have contributed hundreds of thousands of dollars to political campaigns this year, including donations to the 21st Congressional District race in Illinois according to records released recently by the Federal Election Commission.

Big winners in the race for this area's PAC dollars include Sen. John C. Danforth, R-Mo., who received $8,000; Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, $7,250; Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., $5,500; and Rep. William Dickinson, R-Ala., $9,000.

Peabody Coal Co.'s PAC donated $25,580 to 14 Senate and 18 House candidates, including $3,000 to Danforth and $1,000 to Democrat Jerry Costello, chairman of the U.S. House of Representatives. Costello is a contender for the seat being vacated by retiring Rep. Melvin Price, D-Bellefonte.

Peabody also contributed $1,000 to Sen. Robert Dole and $5,000 to Vice President George Bush.

St. Louis PAC contributions to candidates represent much less than the level of support the candidates receive nationally. Danforth, for example, has raised over $200,000 in national PAC money this year for his 1988 re-election campaign.

Political action committees can give each candidate as much as $5,000 per election compared to a $1,000 limit on individual contributions. Critics say committee money can unduly influence the candidates.

Supporters of the PAC system say the committees enable individuals with similar interests to band together and give their money more clout.

Portions of company PAC funds are raised by voluntary contributions from employees. The largest contributors tend to be high-ranking officials who influence the PAC policies and donations.

The vast majority of PAC dollars goes to incumbents. That is also true in the St. Louis area, where three non-incumbents received PAC money from seven committees reviewed.

But there are those in Congress who would curb the contributions. Since early this year, the Senate has been considering a bill that would place stricter limits on PAC spending. However, the measure has been blocked by a Republican filibuster.

Most of the St. Louis area PACs concentrate their donations on local politicians or on members of congressional committees that affect their businesses. For example, McDonnell Douglas Corp. and General Dynamics Corp. have contributed large sums to members of the Senate and House Armed Services committees.

"Our philosophy is to support the nomination and election of candidates who support the free enterprise system and a strong national defense," said Alvin Spivak, Washington spokesman for General Dynamics.

General Dynamics' PAC reported a total of $59,600 in contributions to 18 Senate candidates and 62 House candidates nationwide.

General Dynamics' Senate contributions include $3,000 to DeConcini, a member of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Defense, and $2,000 to Sen. Jeff Bingaman, D-N.M., a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

House members receiving money from General Dynamics include Dickinson, ranking minority member on the Armed Services Committee ($4,000); Rep. Samuel Stratton, D-N.Y., chairman of the committee's procurement subcommittee ($2,500); and House Minority Leader Robert Michel, R-Ill. ($1,000).

The McDonnell Douglas Good Government Fund donated $70,750 to 21 Senate candidates and 51 House candidates nationwide through May 31 of this year.

In the Senate, McDonnell Douglas donated $15,000 to 11 Republicans and $13,000 to 10 Democrats. Most of those are up for election in 1988, including Danforth, who received $5,000.

In the House, McDonnell Douglas gave $20,450 to 21 Republicans and $22,300 to 30 Democrats. The money went primarily to members of defense-related committees, including Dickinson, who received $5,000, and Stratton, $2,000.

Other House contributions by McDonnell Douglas included $5,000 to Michel; $2,500 to first-term Rep. Jack Buchner, R-Mo. 2nd District; and $1,500 to Rep. Bill Chappell, D-Florida, chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Defense, which controls purse strings for defense spending.

The Anheuser-Busch PAC donated $13,200 to nine Democrats and seven Republicans. Contributions in the Senate included $2,000 to Finance Committee Chairman Bentsen and $1,500 to DeConcini, sponsor of a beer industry-supported bill that would grant beer distributors immunity from federal anti-trust laws.

The beer company's House contributions included $1,000 to Energy and Commerce Chairman Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich.; $1,000 to Budget Committee Chairman Rep. William Gray, D-Pa.; and $1,000 to Michel.

Southwestern Bell's PAC contributed $16,400 to five Senate and 33 House candidates, and $1,000 each to presidential candidates Sen. Dole, R-Kan., and Rep. Richard Gephardt, D-Mo. In the Senate, the company donated $3,250 to Bentsen, while in the House contributions included $1,000 each to Missouri Democrats Ike Skelton and Harold Volkmer.

Gary Andres, director of federal relations for Southwestern Bell, said his PAC supports Gephardt and Dole because the company does business in Missouri and Kansas.

In both cases the state organization recommended the decision (to donate money)," Andres said.

Du Quoin State Fair opens gates Saturday

The Du Quoin State Fair will begin Aug. 29 for a 10-day run that will include harness and auto racing, a lumberjack contest, Senior Citizens Day each day of the fair and an unprecedented participation by Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

The First Heat center will be the site for daily entertainment for senior citizens from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on the weekends. Thirty units from SIUC will be represented at the fair, including the university radio and TV stations. WSUTV-TV will prepare three-minute video tapes of children at the request of parents for identification purposes. Parents should bring a blank video tape.

State calls itself lucky with new lottery chief

Gov. James R. Thompson said the Illinois State Lottery's "string of good luck" with its administrators should continue under the leadership of its new director, Sharon Sharp, former deputy director of marketing in the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

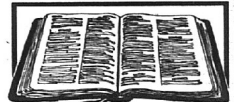

"I'm betting that Sharon Sharp will be another winner," Thompson said.

During the last fiscal year, the state lottery set a new sales record with $1.3 billion in ticket sales, including $533 million in profits earmarked for the Common School Fund.

Outstanding artists sought for state award

The Illinois Arts Council is looking for candidates for outstanding artist, arts organization and community for the 1987 Governor's Awards for the Arts, which will be given Nov. 19 at Milliken University, Decatur.

Sept. 18 is the deadline for nominations. Forms may be obtained at the Illinois Arts Council, State of Illinois Center, 100 W. Randolph, Suite 10-500, Chicago, IL 60601; (312) 917-6750 or (800) 237-6594.

DON'T BE A FOOL

Psalm 14:1 says, "The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God." The Bible doesn't characterize a fool as one who is intellectually weak. There are many very intelligent people who are fools Biblically speaking.

A fool is one who has convinced himself in his heart that he will never stand before God. He even asks, which he doubts very strongly. He has no understanding of God, thus is led to deny his very existence. He may not verbalize this belief, but in his actions he defies the commands given by God and thus lives as if there is no one that he must answer to.

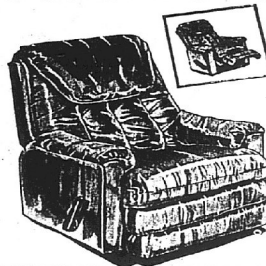

The Bible further describes a fool as one whose ways are right in his own eyes (Proverbs 12:15). He determines what is right and wrong. He follows the light of his own reasoning and thinks he is safe in himself. He's got it all under control! What a fool!

The Bible further described a fool as one who places more value on temporal things than in his spiritual well-being (Luke 12:20). He worships and serves the creature rather than the Creator. He lives as if this life were it "Eat, drink, and be merry for tomorrow we die."

In light of the Biblical definition of a fool, what are you? Don't be a fool! The reality that God is and that as His creature you will have to stand before Him as your Judge one day. You are a fool if you continue in a Christless life, for that will only lead to a Christless eternity where you will receive your just judgment from a holy God. You say you do not believe that nonsense? Well, to you these words must be sadly quoted, "On the earth the athletes many; in hell there is not any!"

Living Every Day

Tradition — Dignity — Support

LONELINESS... WE ALL FEEL IT

A recent survey taken by the Lou Harris agency showed that 90% of the younger people thought that older adults are lonely people.

When older adults were asked the same question only 12% agreed that they were indeed lonely. The national average of people who admit to feeling lonely is about 12%.

Therefore advancing years, in and of themselves, do not bring about loneliness. Our first day in school, when we finally had to face the world without mom's protection, brought a feeling of loneliness to us. Many other experiences in our lives bring about a sense of loneliness.

Loneliness is not a new experience to the senior adult. It is part of being human, of knowing that we are unavoidably involved with others and at the same time irrevocably alone.

As we grow older it is inevitable that the opportunity for loneliness grows. The number of our close friends dwindle. We begin to feel a sense of lack of connectedness with those that were close to us and isolation and loneliness can move in to fill the void.

Once we realize that loneliness is a normal emotion that has been with us all of our lives, we can take steps to overcome whatever loneliness creeps into our lives as we age and our surroundings change.

First, don't confuse aloneness with loneliness. Everyone needs a certain amount of aloneness. Simply because you may be alone does not mean you have to be lonely. Aloneness only becomes loneliness when we allow it to.

Second, you must learn that you cannot conquer loneliness by fearing it. Only when you accept it as real and that you alone have the responsibility of dealing with it can you begin to overcome loneliness.

Third, if we expect people to care for us, we must care for them. Caring begins with us then moves outward to join us with others. Instead of following our natural instinct to turn inward as we lose those dear to us, turn outward to those that are around us. People are lonely because they build walls instead of bridges.

BOB THOMAS
President

Work to overcome loneliness. It is an emotion that keeps you "Living Every Day."

groundbreaking ceremonies for a new $19 million Air Force Communications Command headquarters for completion in the spring of 1989.

Guest speakers were U.S. Sen. Alan J. Dixon, D-Illinois; Gen. Duane H. Cassidy, commander in chief, Military Airlift Command; and Maj. Gen. John T. Stihl, AFCC commander.

Dixon spoke on behalf of U.S. Rep. Melvin Price, Belleville Democrat (who, along with the generals, broke ground as part of the traditional ceremony), and U.S. Rep. Kenneth J. Gray, D-Carbondale, who was also an honored guest at the event. Dixon praised his "venerable colleague, Mr. Price, who has done great work for this base, going all the way back to the days of World War II."

AFCC's commander, Stihl, told the audience, "Today, dedicated AFCC personnel work around the clock — 24 hours a day, seven days a week — in ground and airborne command centers; in missile fields; at our bomber, transport and fighter bases; in control towers; in communications centers and in computer facilities."

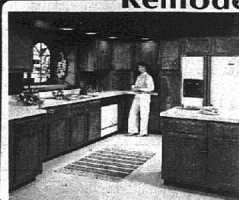

"They are living our motto, 'Excellence in Action,' and ensuring that people have the information they need to do their job, all the way from threat warning information for our president and senior commanders to the information aircraves and support personnel need to defend this nation."

"This new building will help our personnel to better carry out their responsibilities."

Kevin Narup

Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Kevin E. Narup has been granted the title of Master Training Specialist.

Narup received the title for exceptional dedication to duty and completion of the demanding requirements in such areas as leadership, technical competence, application of instructional methodology and the desire to improve fleet readiness through quality instruction.

The petty officer is in the top 10% of all instructors at the Service School Command at Great Lakes, where he is an instructor in the Electrician Mate "A" School.

Narup is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Narup, 2324 Lincoln Ave. He is married to the former Clara Bates of Granite City and the couple has two children. The family resides at Great Lakes, where Narup will remain until reassigned in May 1988.

John Narup

Airman John C. Narup has completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas. While in the six week training program, Narup was named dorm chief of his flight.

The airman has now been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base at Rantoul, Ill., where he is starting nine weeks of training in the Jet Engine Mechanics School.

A 1987 graduate of Granite City High School, Narup is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Narup, 2324 Lincoln Ave., and brother of Petty Officer 1st Class Kevin E. Narup.

David Aldridge

Second Lt. David W. Aldridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Aldridge Sr., 2561 Ivy Lane, has completed the U.S. Air Force military indoctrination for medical service officers at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas.

The course acquaints newly commissioned medical personnel with professional and administrative responsibilities as Air Force officers.

Aldridge's wife, Sabin, is the daughter of Ronald M. Thompson, 2348 Benton St. The lieutenant is a 1986 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Daniel Cochran

Marine Lance Cpl. Daniel L. Cochran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. (Mable) Cochran, 2013 15th St., has returned from a six-month deployment in the Mediterranean with the 26th Marine Amphibious Unit from Camp Lejeune, N.C. The unit was part of the Landing Force Sixth Fleet 2-87.

During the six month tour, Cochran participated in five combined amphibious exercises and one unilateral joint amphibious exercise.

For the first time in 18 years, Marines conducted an exercise on the island of Corsica, allowing the Sixth Fleet's Landing Force to practice and refine the special operations techniques developed during their pre-deployment training.

A 1984 graduate of Granite City High School, Cochran joined the Marine Corps in July 1984.

James Sims

Army Pvt. James W. Sims, son of Sharon K. Scott, 2112 Nevada Ave., has been decorated with the Army Achievement Medal in West Germany.

The Achievement Medal is awarded to soldiers for meritorious service, acts of courage or other accomplishments.

Sims is a vehicle mechanic with the 12th Engineer Battalion. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scott, reside at 40 Shirwin Drive.

Kenneth Goff

Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Kenneth E. Goff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene (Jeanette) Goff, 2015 Rhodes St., Madison, recently departed for a six-month tour in the Western Pacific and Indian Ocean aboard the aircraft carrier USS Constellation. The carrier is homeported in San Diego.

A port visit is scheduled for Subic Bay in the Republic of the Philippines, with possible port calls to Singapore, Kenya and Western Australia.

Goff is a 1972 graduate of Madison High School. He joined the Navy in June 1983.

Eric McIlroy

Eric A. McIlroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George (Beverly) McIlroy, 2669 Center St., has been promoted in the U.S. Army to the rank of sergeant.

McIlroy is a finance specialist at Fort Bragg, N.C., with the 82nd Airborne Division. His wife, Melissa, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell (Paula) Travis of Granite City.

The sergeant is a 1983 graduate of Granite City High School South.

David Price

Airman National Guard Airman David A. Price, son of Mrs. Patricia P. Randall, 2145 State St., has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, near San Antonio, Texas.

Price's wife, Darla, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. Krug, 1852 Poplar St. The airman started the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations. He also earned credits toward an associate degree through the community college of the Air Force.

Lonzie Helms Jr.

Army National Guard Pvt. 1st Class Lonzie C. Helms Jr., son of Leona Helms, 800 Main St., Venice, and Lonzie C. Helms, Chicago, has completed the basic field artillery cannon course under the one station unit training program at Fort Sill, Okla.

A 1984 graduate of Venice High School, Helms was taught the duties of a howitzer or gun section crewman during the course. He also received instruction in communications, maintenance and handling of ammunition and explosives.

Kelly Padgett

Navy Airman Kelly B. Padgett, whose wife, Tina, is the daughter of Katherine P. Stugard, 1726 Cleveland Blvd., has completed the Basic Aviation Structural Mechanic Course.

Padgett received instruction on the inspection, maintenance and repair of aircraft frames (skeletons) and exteriors (skins) during the eight-week course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center at Millington, Tenn.

The course included classroom work and practical application periods, blueprint reading, corrosion control and metalworking.

Ronald Hindman

Airman 1st Class Ronald L. Hindman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Hindman, 2204 Dewey Ave., has graduated from the aircraft maintenance systems specialist course at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo.

He is a 1978 graduate of American High School in Chicago and his wife, Laura, is the daughter of Jerry C. Turner, 5175 Old Alton Road.

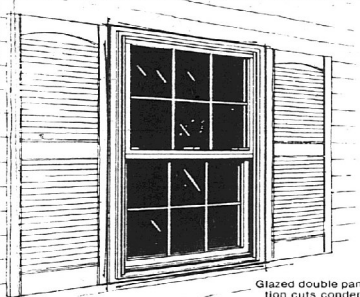

During the 13-week course, Hindman was instructed to maintain, install, modify and repair aircraft engine and rockets.

Aphrodite Kafka

Tech. Sgt. Aphrodite Kafka has participated in the Strategic Air Command's annual readiness training exercise "Global Shield 87."

Kafka's husband, James, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. (Loretta) Kafka, 1532 Rodgers Ave.

She is a 1982 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and a material facilities supervisor at Wurtsmith Air Force Base in Michigan.

Shriners plan crusade

The 8,700 Shriners of Ainal Temple will close their third annual paper crusade Saturday, Aug. 28, to benefit Shriners' hospitals for crippled children.

Works by Saint-Saens, Puccini to be featured

The Midland Repertory Players will close their 1987 summer season with works by composers Camille Saint-Saens and Giacomo Puccini.

The company, under the direction of Kaye Shanahan, will present portions of "Samson & Delilah" by Saint-Saens and the second and third acts of "Madame Butterfly" by Puccini on Thursday through Sunday, Sept. 3-5, at the Opera Barn, five miles west of Greenfield, Ill.

Performances will begin at 8:15 p.m., and persons attending should bring folding chairs and sweaters. Admission will be $5.50 for adults and $4.50 for senior citizens and students.

The program is supported in part by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Propst guest speaker at artists guild meeting

Brian Propst will speak at the Gateway East Artists' Guild's monthly meeting tonight at 7 in the Community room at the Collinsville Memorial Library, 408 W. Main St., Collinsville.

The program will consist of a slide presentation on styrofoaming and wax casting in the process of jewelry making.

Computer Fair slated

The Gateway Computer Club will hold its annual Computer Fair starting at 9 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 29, at St. Clair Square in Belleville.

Computers will be demonstrated and questions will be answered. The public is invited.

Warrior spikers aim for 20 wins

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — Don Deterding is certainly no stranger to watching high school athletes jumping around in gymnasiums, playing with a ball and a net.

But enough about basketball. The long-time Granite City cage coach is back for his second season as head volleyball coach and he's trying to get more and more comfortable with each passing day.

This year's Warrior team could be a good one and Deterding is not shy about setting some goals.

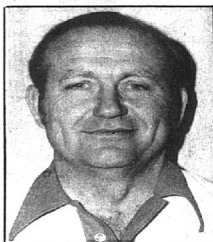

"I'm hoping for 20 wins this year," he says. "I would be disappointed if we didn't approach that level. And I don't see why we can't contend for the conference championship."

Deterding is still trying to familiarize himself with the finer points of the game, a game he got interested in mainly through watching his daughters play in high school and college. He knows now he has some experience returning.

A quartet of seniors is Deterding's big hope for a successful season. Seniors Lisa Mills, Tammy LeVault, Beth Earney and Wendy Knollman are the nucleus of the team and they will probably be the major factor in determining how far the Warriors will go.

Mills will be the setter, while LeVault, Earney and Knollman are the big hitters at the net.

"The big thing about them is they all had a volleyball in their hands for much of the summer," Deterding said. "Knollman was the MVP at a camp over at Washington U. and also went to a camp at SIU-Carbondale. She

VALUABLE QUARTET: These four seniors will provide most of the leadership for the Warrior volleyball team

"Mills was a starter at the setter position, and I think that's the most important position on the court."

Gone from last year's 13-15 squad are outside hitters Sandy Sternberg and Maria Toeniskoe. In their place will be senior Michelle Jeffries and junior Lisa Kuit.

"Obviously, with two new players we'll have to see how their communication on the court will be," Deterding said. "That's the thing that makes the good teams. I have seen even the very good teams in college and above just let the ball fall right in the middle of the court. That just infuriates me because it just shouldn't happen."

Other players Deterding is counting on off the bench include Sharon Filkins, Amy Cant and Melissa King. He is also hoping for some help from Jennifer Cavaness, although she had arthroscopic knee surgery recently and won't be back for a while.

"I know she has some size and could help us," Deterding said. "But after the starters, I'm still looking for some others to step forward."

"The secret is the two new starters. I know what the first four can do and the others have

Stars still seeking scorer

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — Over the greatest portion of a soccer field, Larry Petri feels pretty good about his team. Right around the nets — at both ends of the field — he's not so sure.

Petri begins his fifth year as the only soccer coach Granite City Campus has ever known. He has an overall mark of 37-36-4 and is still trying to bring the Stars up to the level of region rival Lewis and Clark.

The past recruiting year was a pretty good one for Petri, but he could use a little more depth in goal and one more goal scorer.

"We're a little short up front, but I think everyone is always looking for another scorer," Petri said. "We're still experimenting up there."

The other possible trouble spot is in goal, but the problem isn't as bad as it looks — particularly if freshman Scott Clynes proves he can handle the load.

"He's the only keeper we have here now," Petri said. "He came in in great shape and has worked hard and looked pretty good."

Petri said he had some other didn't pan out and aren't in pre-season practice, which began Aug. 4. So Clynes was left to carry the burden.

"We have no predetermined backup," Petri said. "We just might have to adjust and have Scott do most of the work. But we've done that before. Scott is quick and has made some dandy reaction saves in practice. His problems right now are concen-

The fullback position is considerably deeper and is anchored by returning sophomore Darryl Frauenfelder, a second-team NJCAA All-American in 1986. But Frauenfelder injured a quad muscle in practice 10 days ago and hasn't practiced much since.

Warrior gridders will scrimmage Friday evening

For those wanting to get an early look at the Warrior football team, Friday night will be the chance to do so.

Head coach Ron Yates and his staff will conduct a split-squad scrimmage at Memorial Stadium on Friday evening. Granite City High School athletic director Greg Patton said on Wednesday the scrimmage would begin at either 7 or 7:30 p.m.

Patton said Yates was still trying to contact officials to work the scrimmage and would determine the starting time after that. There will be no admission to the public for the scrimmage.

The Warriors have another week of practice before opening the season next Friday at Cahokia in a 7:30 p.m. game. They will play at Normandy (Mo.) on Sept. 12 in a 1 p.m. game before the home opener Sept. 18 against Belleville West. Kickoff that night is set for 7:30 p.m.

Previews of the fall sports will continue in Sunday's edition with a look at the Warrior cross country team plus a profile of new Madison volleyball coach Gayle McRoberts.

Previews of the Granite City and Madison football teams will appear in next Thursday's Press-Record. The Warrior soccer team will be previewed in next Wednesday's Journal.

The first fall varsity events will be held on Tuesday.

Chappell has depth to challenge Edwardsville

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — Depth. What does a coach like more than depth? Hardly anything.

A few talented performers are fine, but what happens if they aren't able to come through for some reason? If you don't have people waiting in the wings to do the job, the season can go down the drain.

For this reason, Russ Chappell is prowling the Arlington Golf Course these days in a contented mood. Not only does he have a nucleus of good golfers for the Warrior team, but he has enough to fill up more than a dozen golf carts.

"We've got 13 guys fighting for the top eight spots," Chappell said. "There are a lot of golfers out here and any one of them can break 40."

Chappell is hoping his group of 30 can unseat Edwardsville as the area's top team. The Tigers have been on top for years now, but the Warriors are hoping to give them a run for their money.

"We expect to be as good as anybody," Chappell said. "And we'll scare Edwardsville to death if we don't beat them. They will be the favorite because they have been there for so long. Belleville West, O'Fallon and Alton will be other good teams."

The Warriors will counter those teams with a strong group of returning players. The top

Bo Smith takes late model event at Tri-City

By Joe Senter
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — Bo Smith of St. Charles, Mo., took top honors at Tri-City Speedway on Aug. 22.

Smith won the feature event in the U.M.P. late model stock cars driving the Smith Super Fly house car #B-7 Trans Am. He looked like a puppet on a string as he circled the track being pressured on several occasions by Charlie Sentman, Bill Hay and Bill Shaw. But they couldn't find the speed and power to match the famous Super Fly. At the checkered flag it was Shaw finishing second, Sentman third, Hay fourth, Rick Stan-drige fifth and Len Gittermeier sixth.

Ron Fisher won the first heat race followed by Shaw and Gittermeier. Sentman took the second heat followed by Hay and Smith.

Ron Taylor of Florissant, Mo., won the modified feature event as he was chased across the finish line by "Iron Man" Mike Hammerle, with Lou Thery third, Bo Smith fourth, Johy Thyer fifth and Tom Goodall sixth. They and Hammerle took the heat races.

Gary Archambault was the feature event winner in the sportsman's cars driving the Nullynski house car #N-1. Archambault was chased across the finish line by hard-charging Steve Quarterhouse. Rick Bayer was third followed by Don Carter, Mike Young and Jake Seets.

Trojans could use more players

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

MADISON — Gene Briggs wouldn't mind going to war with the players he has now. He just hopes the war wouldn't last too long.

Briggs starts his 11th season as the head soccer coach for the Trojans with what he said is one of his hardest-working groups of players. There is also some pretty good talent aboard, but the big problem is numbers.

"We've had as many as 22 players out for pre-season drills," Briggs said. "But sometimes we haven't had that many. I don't know if we'll even have team. I'm not real confident."

Gene Briggs

Meanwhile, Briggs is keeping his fingers crossed that injuries and grades don't cut into the number of players he does have available. And what he does have isn't too bad as Briggs tries to build a winning program at Madison.

"This is as good a group as I've had as far as attitude and work habits," Briggs said. Heading the list of returners are senior lettermen Clarence Williams, Brandon Fletcher, Jeff Beard and Neil Huniak.

"Clarence is a good one," Briggs said. "He'll probably play in goal for us quite a bit, and if he wasn't so good in the field he would be there all the time."

But Williams will probably share the goalkeeping chores with Junior Terry Jackson.

"Clarence is a great punter and is good with his distribution," Briggs said. "He plays the angles well. But he is also valuable on the field. So we'll probably end up splitting the time with him and Terry." Beard, a fullback, and Huniak, a forward, were all-conference performers along with Williams last year. Briggs does have some other seniors to call on, but players like Corrin Blockton, Jason Briggs and Bruce Miller are all first-year players.

MSGSA parade set for Sept. 12

The Madison County Girls Soccer Association will kick off its fall season with a parade down Madison Avenue in Granite City. The parade will be Sept. 12 beginning at 1 p.m. The planned route will take the parade from the parkways at 24th Street and Madison Avenue east down Madison to 29th Street.

The parade will take a left turn to the Wilson Park Ice Rink, where the girls will assemble for a brief awards ceremony for the past season and a well-coming of the new teams for this season.

Jack McKeehan of Granite City, the president of MSGSA, said his organization will ask the Granite City High School marching band to participate and will also ask the fire department to provide a fire engine as part of the parade.

McKeehan said he expects between 300 and 400 girls from 35 teams to participate.

Tony & Joe's wins state tournament
The Tony & Joe's softball team won the NSA Illinois Class D state tournament held at Softball Central July 31-Aug. 2. The team had a 6-1 tournament record and won the championship game by a 13-5 score. Team members were George St. Clair, Jim Broadway, Vince Dohm, Dennis Shea, Tim Carriel, John Cannavan, Bill Amos, Kevin Shea, Leo Tormino, Mike Eaves and Kelly Scrum.

Kevin Shea, Scrum and Broadway all made the all-tournament team while Eaves, the pitcher, was named the tournament MVP.

to fill the gap. They have shown signs both ways. It all boils down to the little things.

Anyone who is familiar with Deterding's years as a basketball coach knows how he stresses defense. And he has found volleyball to be no different.

"Defense is the most important thing in any sport," Deterding said. "All the spectacular spikes are nice, but defense is what will win for you. You have to be able to keep the ball in the air on your side. We'll start stressing that this week."

While Deterding said he is not that knowledgeable about the other teams in the Southwestern Conference, he knows the Belleville school are always tough. "They lose some players, but the ones they have play all summer," Deterding said. "I think we can at least contend for the title."

The Warriors won't open until

Sept. 9, when they play at Edwardsville. The first home match isn't until Sept. 21 when Wood River comes to Memorial Gymnasium. The Warriors will also host a sectional this year. "Edwardsville always has a strong team and they probably will have played four or five matches by the time we face them," Deterding said. "So we'll get a tough test right away."
